WHY JOIN

A community for women who are serious about where they're going.

01

Get in the right rooms.

Our events bring together founders, investors, and executives across every corner of financial services. Every gathering is curated to create real connections — not another networking happy hour.

02

Be seen and recognized.

From our annual Inspiring FinTech Females program to speaking opportunities on industry panels, we create visibility for women doing meaningful work in this space.

03

Find support for wherever you are.

Whether you're job searching, building a company, or growing into a leadership role, our community offers mentorship, coaching, co-founder matching, and peers who understand you.

Membership opens twice a year — Spring '26 round is now live.

— OUR MISSION

This community exists because the industry wasn't built for us. We're changing it from within.

The number of women leading, building, and investing in financial services has grown — but the structural barriers, the lack of visibility, the missing connections, and the rooms women still aren't included in haven't disappeared on their own.

NYC Fintech Women exists because women in this industry deserve a community built specifically for them — not as an afterthought or a diversity initiative, but as a substantive network where careers get accelerated and ambitions get taken seriously.

If you're ready to build your real career in a real community with likeminded women — this is where you start.

— Signed, the NYC Fintech Women team.
